Project report online

Award-winning youth centre handed over.

Property developers can collect points towards the LEED certification during the construction phase - for example, for cleanliness on the construction site, or environmentally friendly construction processes and materials. The available infrastructure also plays an important part: places to shop, public access, water and energy management. The certificate is issued in Bronze, Silver or Gold.

Impressions

Image notes

1

Design & Build, the American way.

The CYSS is a modern youth centre in the American style, surrounded by green spaces.

2

Colourful diversity.

Something for everyone, from pool wizards to lounge lizards.

3

A place for top performances.

Children and young people can enjoy their favourite sports in the new sports hall.
