New location for the utility company EWE AG

DGNB Gold Standard as sustainability seal

As proof of sustainability, the new building for the 100 or so employees working in Delmenhorst is to achieve DGNB (Deutsche Gesellschaft für Nachhaltiges Bauen e.V.) certification with Gold status. As an experienced DGNB member of many years' standing, PORR is advising and supporting the client on the way to certification. The installation of a heat pump, photovoltaic system with storage and e-charging points underlines the high standards of sustainability. The PV system is supplied and installed directly by the tenant.

Longstanding existing customer

The trusting cooperation between the client and Hochbau Region Nord has been tried and tested several times: In Bad Segeberg, PORR has already constructed an administration building for the job centre and the employment agency for the existing client, and in Ahrensburg the team realised the extension for the job centre on site; the joint project for the employment agency in Schleswig is currently running in parallel.
