A perfect shopping atmosphere.

The design incorporated the 35%, 95%, and 100% stages. The technical components included two chiller units, pumps and control cabinets, and an automation system - which even allows for remote control of the heating and ventilation systems.

Impressions

Image notes

1

Construction work during business hours.

The ventilation system was installed while normal business continued on the ground floor.

2

A solid foundation.

The new ventilation system stands on a solid steel structure.
